to reconsider the order passed by his predecessor

From the petition & the endorsement for mis. application & the first petn it is not clear who levied the Stamp duty & penalty. The prayer is towards for the remission of the ~~duty~~ penalty levied & if allowed the petition may be forwarded to the D.C. for report & draft order for allowance or otherwise

20/8/06

Prima facie this is a hard case - that a poor ignorant ryot should be levied the heavy fine of Rs 175/-, and I think that a stay order regarding the recovery of the fine as prayed for by the petitioners is not misplace

Please call for an early report - the document is a sale deed & partition deed & ignorance thereof are

A document executed in 1873 was produced before the Amildar of Bangalore Taluk on 14th March 1904 in connection with a case of transfer of Patta of certain lands. The document was found to be a "deed of partition" & was impounded & sent to the Dy. Com'r who levied the deficit Stamp duty of Rs 15.8.4 and a penalty of Rs 15/- leaving to issue the deficit Stamp duty (vide Dy Comr. Mer

Thereupon the Assistant reported that the parties were too poor to pay the heavy penalty and pleaded its being reduced to Rs 10/- and the Mer Munshi who was then by. Comr declined to reconsider the order passed by his predecessor.

The parties have therefore petitioned Govt for the ~~refund~~ remission of the penalty - They have no objection to the levy of the amount of duty Rs 45-8-0.

Section 45 cl(1) of the Stamp Regn. II of 1900 authorizes the refund either wholly or in part of the penalty paid. As in the present case the amount of penalty has not been paid the levy has to be waived.

This section which stands in the way to of the petitioner. It only authorises the refund of the penalty actually paid and not the remission of a penalty still due. The omission of such a provision from the stamps act is purposive and was at the instance of the Select Committee which sat to report on the Bill to amend the stamps act in 1898. The only course left to the petitioner would seem to be to pay down the penalty and then ask for a refund. Brief may be consulted if govt can revise the order under Section 56.

1). Whether under section 48 of the Stamp Act the petitioner who is no party to the partition deed can be rightly compelled to pay the duty and penalty levied & the collector under section 40(b).

2) And if so, Whether pet. can revise the order of the collector when the duty and penalty has not been paid -

~~1) I do not see any thing to prevent~~

I think

1) The penalty may be levied from the ~~party~~ person who produces the document, but if he was not one of the parties to the partition deed or the successor in title to any such party he will under Sec. 44 be entitled to recover the amount from the persons named in Sec 29 (g).

(2) I do not think Sec 56(1) gives to Govt. the power to revise the Dy. Com's

Sir,

With reference to your Official Memorandum No: FL: 1773 F. R. 26-6-2, dated the 27th August 1906, calling for a report on the petitions of Doddanayja and Puttiah of Hemmoor village, Yesawantapur Hobli, Bangalore Taluk in re - the remission of the penalty of Rs 165 - un levied on a document in addition to the deficit Stamp duty, I have the honor to state that the bond in question, being a partition deed was executed on a Stamp paper of annas eight instead of the same being written on a stamp paper of Rs 16, which was produced by the party before the Amildar in connection with the dispute of a puttah

2. The value of the subject matter of partition was reported to be Rs 1354.

3. The Amildar impounded the document being insufficiently stamped. This document was executed on the 24th May 1873. Under the rules then in force, my predecessor Mr. D. Devaraj ordered the levy of deficient stamp duty of Rs 15-8-0 and a penalty of Rs 155-0-0 being ten times the duty.

4. The records received from the Amildar of Bangalore Taluk with his report No: 145 dated the 7th September 1906, are herein enclosed along with the
